

As has been commented by someone else in the forum, I think we talk a lot about a new airdrop and not so much about proposals, promotion, security, expansion, etc.

Luckily for us, although participation in the forum is not the one desired by many, the Uniswap team does not stop working.

I think it is important to remember that the Uniswap team is made up of 11 people. Imagine for a moment, the volume of work of planning, development, testing, etc., to achieve in less than six months:

- V3 running
- Outperform sites like Coinbase in daily transactions.
- Undisputed leader defi
- Token UNI among the top 10 on the market

All my support and appreciation for this great team. I will continue trying to talk more and more about what I consider our project.

A grain of sand does not do much, but if we all pitch in, the grain can become a beach ...
