

Unexpectedly, Airdrop4 is mainly an airdrop for large investors participating in NFT. Although there is nothing wrong with such airdrops, if it only takes care of large investors and ignores retail investors, it will not be a good thing for the development of OP. Therefore, I think the project team will continue to formulate airdrop standards for the NFT sector in the next Airdrop5.

If the project team will solicit suggestions from the community, I hope the project team will remember the “Optimistic Explorer” and “Optimism Quests” released when the OP was launched. Because these two NFT activities are unique to OP and best reflect the loyalty of OP users.

If the project team already has such a plan, I hope it will be a snapshot of the 3.13 Cancun upgrade time node.