

I am interested in your methods and opinions on the fight against drop hunters. Or do you think that there is no need to fight them at all? that they do not harm the ecosystem, but only develop interest in it?