

Yesterday I posted : My aave tokens are taken away by a hacker, can we use admin key to get it back? but has got no reply.

I am talking with the support. In the meanwhile I want to start a discussion to stop the thief from getting the still in cooldown 6k stkAAVE.

I have concluded the hacker only had access to my aave and eth fund. Because I had 7m usd at that address 0x8135908BbcB583D65978acCFE3Da6cA927185Eb1 yet the hacker only took 450k of aave and 3.5eth to his address 0xD7C40C252cAEBfeA30A02cDC648Bf5CF8Cb690e1. I have emptied the funds after the hack. Anyone can check my story.

That means if I am right, anyone who have given permission to aave.com is at risk of losing all the aave and eth.

So I propose to extend the cooldown time of the stolen stkAAVE to prevent the hacker getting funds until the investigation concludes. As according to our policy "The cooldown period by default is 10 days, but this can be further extended by the governance.", it is possible even without a voting.

I am willing to donate half of the stolen 6.2k aave funds to the community. Or freeze them forever. Please give me your thoughts and advise me what to do. There are 7 days left. After that, the hacker will be able to cash the fund.
