

I can't get the idea of Guerilla Marketing out of my head.

It haunts me like the look in the eyes of the two men I saw beaten and taken away in a Mexican jail.

And it excites me like a car on fire in the middle of a riot.

I think both AIP-502 and AIP-495 are primed for some really really cool guerilla marketing.

I remember iLLa being interested in some GM as well. And I am wondering if there are any other members in the group who are interested in these tactics.

I would love to assemble an all star crew of CHAOS & MAYHEM Ministers who would like to come up with some ideas, and potentially write an AIP.

We can start small and go big. If spread out far enough, we can possibly tackle several key cities, internationally even, with targeted and synchronized campaigns.

We could call it: PROJECT GM

Anyone see where I'm going with this?
