

I noticed that if you have a pending regular stake change on any of your models the credit disappears from all models. If you cancel the pending change then the option for the credit (with the blue text) comes back. I already reported this bug to the team and they're looking into it.

So if you have pending stake change(s), cancel it then the credit should come back and you can apply it and after that you can do the regular stake change again. If this doesn't help then you can ask the team in the #support chat for quicker help.
