

Dear Aztecs

I am new here and in the process of research and study I was interested in the following question:

How does Aztec ensure privacy without compromising L2 scalability? Could you share some insights into the trade-offs involved?