

Absolutely loved the images and the fun of #APEFestHK which got me thinking, why can't we have something like that?

I can't afford to travel or host such a grand party yet but I do love merchandise. Can't we have a tier-based merchandise giveaway from the DAO for the members? The DAO can fund it and it will be great to own some DAO merch IRL. It would really help in keeping the community tight and close. We can open an AIP and choose a vendor to handle, the DAO can pay and the most active can be rewarded. Win for all.

What do you think?
