

I'm currently learning about AAVE and how the staking works and if I understand correctly, the current rewards are taken from the AAVE Reserve, in which there are roughly 3m AAVE tokens and are being distributed to stakers at a rate of 550/day. Eventually though, given that the AAVE supply is limited to 16m, the rewards available to stakers will surely be depleted until there are none left, so my question is: what will the incentives be for people to stake their tokens once there are no more AAVE left to be distributed from the reserve?