

I have noticed people use change logs on their posts but it isn't necessary as the function is already part of Discourse.

Step 1

- First click on the pencil on the top right corner of a post (next to the date).

Step 2

You can view in 3 different ways.

a) HTML - This shows each iteration of changes.

b) HTML Compare side by side - This view can show the timeline of changes.

c) Raw - Viewing as Raw makes it easier to copy into a text edit file
