

Hello.

Right now this is pretty strong paradigm shifting going on in defi space ... which (yet) is not in the public eye, but it is being actively discussed behind the scenes and quite hot topic there at the moment. I speak about intent based approach to execute transactions.

If you not aware of that, please take a brief look here:

What are Intent Based Architectures?

Why Is DeFi Moving “off-chain” Towards an “Intent-based” Model?

Exploring the Rise of Intent-Based Decentralized Exchanges (DEXs)

So, I want to rise discussion in that context and ask the team behind GMX - does “we” (as a platform) ready for such coming changes in the space? And/or does GMX can/wanted to adopt this approach ?
