

Delegate statement

Firstly, allow me to introduce myself. My name is Bricia, although you're welcome to call me Brichis and I am Co-Founder of Ethereum Mexico.

My decision to become a delegate was sparked by discussions regarding the OP distribution for the Retroactive Funding that Ethereum Mexico received. When asked if anyone was interested in Public Goods, I responded with a resounding yes. It all seemed to fall into place. We weren't aware of any other Mexican delegate involved in any protocol, and Optimism felt like the perfect choice for me. After exploring various aspects of web3 over the past year and a half, I had decided to zero in on Public Goods. The concept of impact = profit is disruptive, and I am excited about the prospect of being part of this future.

On April 14th, I initiated an experiment within the experiment. I pondered: What would happen if a non-technical person with no experience in governance tried to become a delegate?

As the experiment unfolds, I've come to recognize certain privileges that afford me spending hours reading Optimism's Forum and Discord. Though it's not an easy task, I believe this privilege obliges me to contribute to making Optimism's governance more accessible.

Conflict of Interest Disclosure

1. I am a co-founder of Ethereum México.

Note:

You may find that my initial decisions are based on straightforward reasoning, but rest assured, as I progress along my learning journey, I'll undoubtedly enhance my decision-making processes.
