

I think it's important to open a channel of communication between community members and validators and after talking with @uxt I've decided to start this discussion

I'm a validator and for anyone who hasn't seen me posting here and there, my name is Laura and I've been part of the Enigma Collective since June of 2019 after graduating from Udacity's Blockchain Developer program. I have a day job plus the work I do for the Enigma team.

I'm very passionate and committed to the Enigma protocol, the core team, the Collective and the broader community. I want to see Enigma Chain be successful and fulfill the promise of blockchain privacy that's so important to adoption, in addition to feeling like data privacy is more important than ever.

I have voted for Proposal 2 to "Unify the Community" and am participating in technical discussions on how to do the asset transfer from ENG to SCRT. I have stayed out of the economics part because that's not in my wheelhouse.

It's my sincere hope that we're able to come together and move forward on the new Enigma Chain. I think all stakeholders are important and have a role to play (community, core team, validators). And I want everyone to feel like they have a voice in the governance of the network.
