

I don't have much biographical info to throw at you (other than I'm the sort of person that doesn't usually feel like throwing biographical info at the internet), but I'll just mention that I'm "vantratone" on rocketchat but "quantnoscicator" here (cause I ain't got an account called vantatone and you have to login the forum with one of your accounts). So if you find yourself annoyed by the things I post here and the things vantratone posts on rocketchat, rest assured there is only one of me and thank heaven for that.
