

A sustainable and progressive UNI Price based yield algorithm and protocol should be created to reduce distribution of UNI Rewards going forward and possibly create an incentive to buy and hold UNI for the long-term, by distributing monthly rewards to every UNI holder, proportionate to individual UNI holdings using Every other Token

(except UNI) that is being traded with reasonable liquidity on Uniswap. A continuously yielding staked pool of 10 % of fees collected as different tokens should be set aside for this. The Longer a person holds UNI the Higher the relative proportion (UNI Amount Held|Time Period of Holding) of rewards that can be claimed. Live tracking of potential month end rewards that can be claimed, based on the above logic should be searchable and displayed on Uniswap.info. This will attract inward fund flow from BTC, ETH and other Altcoins and motivate long-term fund managers from the world of stocks, commodities, hedge funds and forex to seriously consider making UNI an essential part of their diversified portfolio, thus paving the way for making UNI the first and only Trillion Dollar DeFi Token ever.
