

GPT has undoubtedly increased my productivity. I'm mainly using it to help me with coding. Its especially helpful at creating matplotlib and seaborn plots, for which I have never acquired more cursory master of. Just being able to copy and paste an error message into chatgpt and get a solution less than a minute is a game changer. With the new plugins coming it will be really interesting to play with the numerai dataset inside the chat.