

Hey all! We're thrilled to announce RetroPGF Pitch Games, aka RetroPitches!

RetroPitches will feature fun, friendly competitions where RetroPGF applicants present their projects and participants rank their pitches. These games will give public goods creators a great opportunity to promote their RetroPGF grant and provide citizens with an easy way to learn about exciting projects in the Optimism Collective.

These innovative public goods games will occur on the next three Mondays at 18 UTC and each game is planned to last about 30 minutes. RetroPitches will happen on zoom calls after Optimism Fractal events and each participating project will have up to five minutes to pitch their grant. You're also welcome to join an hour earlier to play the Respect Game, which also provides many benefits for RetroPGF grantees and citizens of Optimism.

If you'd like to share your RetroPGF grant in the RetroPitch games, we encourage you to sign up here to let us know your preferred date and reserve your spot. Everyone is welcome to join the events and help determine the winners of the game. The event will be recorded and the video will be shared on social media to further raise awareness for public goods creators.

Please feel free to share any questions or comments below and we will respond as soon as possible. You can find the zoom link to join on the event page and share the tweet to help spread the word. We looking forward to seeing your pitches and hope you enjoy the events!
