

We need to establish an APECOIN presence within other DAOs.

MOCAVERSE has become one of the largest and most consistent APECOIN voters to date and for me it naturally makes sense that this should be the first DAO we enter collectively.

MOCA token's release is imminent, and there is an extremely high possibility that our proposed acquisitions will get us a very large distribution without additional cost in the future.

As a holder of two hundred MOCAVERSE we will also be a forceful voice in the decisions of their current 6.3m APECOIN allocation used for voting.

(There are many other benefits to this acquisition which I will thoroughly outline in detail later.)

Please give your thoughts and I will take them all into consideration before drafting the final AIP.
