

Introducing DAO Watch to the Arbitrum Community!

We're excited to invite you to check out DAO Watch

, a series dedicated to diving deep into the latest developments, challenges, and innovations in the world of decentralized autonomous organizations (DAOs). Each episode covers a range of DAOs, offering insights and discussions on proposals, governance, and more.

In our latest episode (#29

), we feature Arbitrum and delve into the ongoing discussion around the proposal to consolidate multisig services. Is this a smart move or a step toward centralization?

We explore both sides and what it means for the future of Arbitrum.

Whether you're deeply involved in governance or just curious about what's happening across the DAO space, DAO Watch is your go-to resource for staying informed and engaged.
