

https://github.com/ethereum/sharding/blob/master/docs/account_redesign_eip.md

These protocol changes are intended to only be use within shards, so that we can make more radical changes to improve efficiency without caring about backwards compatibility. The doc itself describes most of the rationale and some of the interesting properties and ideas that this kind of redesign enables.