

Hi Uniswap fam,

Given that UNI governance is still relatively new, I think that it would be productive to think about proposal procedures and standards before we make changes to the protocol.

Uniswap borrows governance functionality from COMP and the Compound community, and I think this reference on good governance from Robert Leshner is a great jumping off point:

Compound Community Forum – 13 Jul 20

Good Governance

Transitioning governance of the Compound protocol to the community is the most exciting, and powerful experiment we've ever conducted. It's up to all of us, working together, to create the governance standards and processes that will carry Compound...

TL;DR

Proposals should be submitted in the forums and discussed by the community before going on chain.

Technical changes should be publicly vetted.

Proposals should address 1 change at a time.

Please share any other ideas you have about good governance, proposal etiquette, moderation, etc!
