

After the 50 nodes are selected are there any plans to have a 'wait list' made up of the losing nodes? These other nodes could be added slowly if some of the chosen 50 either don't keep required uptimes, decide to stop running a node or if network demand needs it.

Also what are the set of criteria the team is looking for until the hardfork to allow anyone to run a node?