

Note - The discord is no longer

in lockdown

Just a quick post here if anyone is wondering - yes the discord is currently in lockdown

As always: Be aware of any odd links or scams.

A higher level account was compromised on the discord and started spamming scam links. Shortly after this the discord itself vanished completely.

A lot of users have been kicked and banned (speaking from experience!)

Hoping the team has things under control!

*Post updated because I thought the server was deleted, when its just that I've been kicked
