

@greyone Thanks for sharing and for using NumerBay. I'm planning to add the following features soon to make things like this (diversification) easier:

1. (Essential) API for bulk download of performances of all models listed on NumerBay
2. (Optional) Leveraging the above to build a simple in-browser portfolio optimizer where users can import their own performance numbers and use the above data to select the best diversifying models to buy.

Do you have any addition / opinion on the above?
