

I think there were some API issues on Saturday. A few of my predictions also failed to submit when I tried shortly after the round opened. There was also some discussion on RocketChat about this on the day, so I think quite a few people had the same issues.