

Hey fam, its Alberto from InBest & ETH Costa Rica here.

I write with some surprise upon seeing that three voters have disqualified our team's work, i would like to just ask the following 3 questions:

1) Is a full university module about Optimism considered a "promotional initiative"?

2) Is the successful completion of a governance mission considered "outside of scope" for a governance round?

3) If the collective wants this to continue happening, shouldn't we support the leaders who are fulfilling these missions?

To provide context, our team has been leading governance efforts within Optimism. We successfully completed the mission called "Integrate Optimism Governance in University Module."

Our team at Inbest and Ethereum Costa Rica executed this mission perfectly.

Please note that growth mission grants are meant to grow the Superchain—in this case, governance. The tokens allocated must be 100% distributed to the students, with no incentive for the team to do it other than a future RPGF. In fact, a council member informed us at that time, that the impact should be rewarded in a future RPGF.

As this is an RPGF for governance, we believe this is the most appropriate round for our project, which has been extremely successful, surpassing even our expectations! This success is due to the tremendous effort by the team, in terms of time, money, and energy, overcoming challenges and the bureaucracy involved in running a full university course.

All information about the module was detailed on the governance forum.

Thank you for your support! please feel free to comment, we want to know your opinion.
