

Hi I lost my entire ethereum wallet on a long call contract because when the contract hit the liquidation mark it didn't close the contract. It went way past it and turned my account negative and then it arbitrarily closed the contract at a price that cost me everything. The price rebounded within minutes to above the liquidation mark.