

If you're assuming your correlation follows a gaussian, then your negative corr probability is a function of your sharpe ratio.