

Numerai has quietly been beating the most prestigious hedge funds in the industry but have never published our performance.

Today, Numerai is excited to share the performance of our hedge fund for the first time with the data scientist community who built it.

Here's an excerpt from that post about the fund's current AUM

We are only at about $43m in AUM right now so we're still very small for a hedge fund. But Numerai's fund trades with 5.5x leverage so almost one quarter of a billion dollars is controlled by Numerai's data scientists right now. Pretty cool.

Net of fees performance since strategy launch in September 2019
