

What is variable locking?

In the core pools, you can lock your tokens for a period between 1 and 12 months. This changes your token weight. By increasing the duration of your lock, you will increase the token weight of the locked tokens. The maximum weight of a locked token is 2 , which occurs when you lock for a period of 12 months.

Previous What is the difference between the ILV pool and the ILV/ETH pool?Next What happens when I vest my rewards?

Last updated 1 year ago On this page