

Great post, and I agree that Celestia governance should be looking to avoid a situation where we rely on a centralized LST option. One question (and apologies if I'm missing something obvious): Why is Celestia integrating the Liquid Staking Module not a proposed option?

Disclosure: I'm the Grants Lead for the Neutron Grants Program. Neutron was incubated by [P2P.org who also created Lido]