

Numerai is a data science tournament that powers the Numerai hedge fund.

Who is this for?

These forums are meant for anyone participating in the Numerai data science tournament to discuss relevant topics and share information with the community.

When to use Discord vs Forums

Discord is good for short-form realtime community chat for sharing small ideas, links, etc. However, the search function isn't great and doesn't lend itself well to research or self-directed learning. The Forum is better for long-form asynchronous data science discussions and doubles as a searchable corpus of these valuable discussions.

What else can they find here?

- Tournament Announcements
- Long form posts on data analysis, tips, tutorials
- Miscellaneous topics

Logging into the Forum

This forum uses the Numerai Tournament as a single sign on (SSO) provider. To login into the forum, click the button in the top right navbar and you will be authenticated via SSO.

If you do not have a Tournament account, you can creation one here.

For users who manage multiple Tournament accounts, if you were logged into the Forum with the wrong account, you can logout via user profile menu - then re-authenticate with your primary Tournament account.
