

Hey everyone,

After some discussion in the Joint House call I wanted to make this thread as a place for people to share their voting rational.

This can be for round sizing, category weighting, or breakdowns on individual projects.

Hoping that it can be a centralized place that is a little bit easier to read than the telegram chats.

Of course, this is completely optional, and if you'd like your reasoning or votes to remain private that is up to you.

Happy voting!

Michael
