

Should we just stake on example model and get long term return ?