

Hello everyone, builders and fighters for the decentralized future of the world!

We are pleased to present for discussion the creation of content from the community and for the community. This is a list of our contributions to the dYdX ecosystem (in Russian). Our offer is to share useful educational resources, both theoretical and technical, in all languages of the world and to share your own presentation and perception features. The community is strength and it's our common cause to spread the word about dYdX, join us!
