

Hey everyone!

I have been diving deeper into the world of Layer-2 scaling solutions, and Eigenlayer caught my eye as a potential game-changer. I'm still exploring how to best leverage it for some personal projects, but I was wondering if anyone here has experience implementing it or experimenting with it in real-world applications. When I was searching for the same I came across these resources/articles <https://www.blog.eigenlayer.xyz/twelve-early-projects-building-on-eigenlayer/> Power BI Tutorial however they are good but I want to learn more from community members.

What are some practical use cases you've seen or worked on? I'd love to hear any suggestions or insights on how Eigenlayer can help optimize Layer-2 solutions, especially in terms of security and scalability.

Looking forward to hearing your thoughts!

Best Regards
