

10M UNIs are required to submit governance proposals, that's insanely high. That's like ~$65M worth by today's price.

Proposal: reduce it to 10k. The community is already wanting to make proposals but they won't go anywhere with this limit.

It's understandable there are risks given the airdrop, but the team, their backers, and the wider community can surely thwart any obvious attempts to weaponize governance.
