

Can you clarify what you mean by “feature neutralization”? At first I thought you were talking about normalizing data, but then I remembered that NumerAI data is already between 0 and 1.