

Markets are experiencing high volatility, which is leading to higher-than-usual liquidations across Aave deployments. We are closely monitoring the markets and will continue updating the community as necessary.