

Three weeks ago a wstETH<>DAI liquidity pool has been launched on Sushi.

The LP was initially incentivized with double rewards including 200,000 LDO and around 6,000 SUSHI for the first month. Over the past weeks, the pool has grown to $41 million of liquidity and seen up to $1.8 million daily swap volume (visit our dedicated analytical board to learn more about the pool performance). At around 25% APR, it is currently among the most profitable liquidity mining opportunities for wstETH holders.

Sushi LP is a part of our big liquidity diversification plan, and we are looking forward to incentivizing further pool growth. We propose to continue LP rewards for Sushi with the same amount of LDO for the second 30-day reward period starting on September 17th.

We also expect our partners at Sushi to extend rewards for the upcoming month.

In case this proposal sparks no debate in the community, we propose including LDO rewards allocation into the next weekly Omnibus voting held on Thursday, September 9th. Any feedback is very much welcome!
