

Hi!

While it's fun to watch the price of UNI rise, I'm quite disappointed in the actual use of the token atm. Even as someone who spends way too much time on crypto twitter and reading up on all kind of topics I have a hard time to keep up with uniswap governance or to actually find where the discussions take place. There is this forum with barely any discussion, there is the discord, the subreddit, ... And still there have been only 3 votes in the last half year. Luckily there is the grants program now but I wonder if I'm the only one who has no clue what happens there.

I say this as someone who loves the project and has been following it from the beginning.

- How do we get people to participate?
- How can we bundle the discussions in one place?
- Am I the only one that feels lost here?
- How can we get a feeling for what the project team is up to with v3?
- How can we make sure that the UNI token will still be useful with v3?
