

What does everyone think about making an APE newsletter/website? We can discuss all news/media related things with cool articles and maybe even interview fellow community members.