

Proposal to take another snapshot after 3 months for 9/15/2020 and provide wallets that were not eligible during the first snapshot an allocation of UNI, and then burn all UNI tokens designated to be distributed by the claiming mechanism that remain unclaimed after 6 months.

Pro:

- Another Round of Hype for UNI in 3 months when more users claim their tokens.
- Another round of hype in 9 months when the unclaimed tokens are burned.
- Uniswap users from the last two weeks don't miss out on the UNI distribution.
- A low cost gesture of goodwill towards newer DeFi users.

Con:

- More work for an already slammed dev team.
- It may spike ETH gas prices again.
- Likely more that I'm missing
