Reflection

The last 10 weeks has required collaborative effort between myself & the GMX contributors and myself & the community. I've found great support from both of these parties and have delivered products deemed of quality information, aiding in the onchain activity of many users, be it from how to effectively trade on aspects of GMX (funding fee farming, notification of liquidity) to monitoring other users to copy trade. The ability to disseminate effective and powerful data analytics is key in the growth of any data driven protocol which this suite of tools aids in.

Finally, the feedback received from the grants committee while prior and post submission of the proposal was deemed useful and helped to focus the purpose of the proposal toward objectives and milestones that would bring about as many net positives for Arbitrum, GMX, and its community as possible.
