

en.wikipedia.org

Benjamín Labatut | When We Cease to Understand the World

Labatut's third book, When We Cease to Understand the World, was published in 2020 by Pushkin Press. He said that "it is a book made up by an essay (which is not chemically pure), two stories that try not to be stories, a short novel, and a semi-biographical prose piece."^[citation needed] Ricardo Baixera, a literary critic for El Periódico, maintained that it was a "very strange fiction that from the first page questions the parameters of reality, and what we understand by literature."^{[citation ...}

@book{labatut2020we, title={When We Cease to Understand the World: Shortlisted for the 2021 International Booker Prize}, author={Labatut, B. and West, A.N.}, isbn={9781782276135}, lccn={2021005102}, url={https://books.google.co.cr/books?id=ApvzDwAAQBAJ}, year={2020}, publisher={Pushkin Press} }

In openlibrary.