

So I know its a bit early to be making another proposal but I know that many people here are interested in education.

I found a link to a person that makes those sorts of videos for cheap, like $45 worth per video and they say they make videos for cryptocurrency specifically in their presentation.

Here is a link AnyTask

What do you guys think?

I haven't contacted them personally yet though, but I will if you guys are interested.