

But as far as I know, many projects are currently working on this, such as celestia, available, and fuel. They have a lot of great advantages, and resources. How does Dymension ensure that it can survive reasonably in this context? Does it have any incomparable advantages over them?