

Hey everyone, I created a repository on github which shows a step-by-step guide for automating numerai submissions on a weekly basis using IBM Cloud. GitHub - DAVIDCRUZ0202/numerai\_automation: Using numer.ai's api to partake in creating an open source hedge fund

I haven't had to spend a dime yet with this solution. The workflow can be expanded upon and replicated fairly easily. I saw there was a new post about improving Numerai Compute, but eventually decided that this is a related topic, but not exactly the same thing? I could always post in there as well about this I guess. Hopefully others find this useful let me know your thoughts!
