

I propose that the Secret Network team distribute an airdrop of SCRT tokens to anyone who has participated to make the project better/further the project—including those who have participated here, provided liquidity, staking, content creation on social media, etc. All they would need to do is set up a website where people can share any link to their participations. If the links to such are then approved then the site allows them to claim X number of SCRT tokens. If necessary, each person's tokens can be vested in order to assure they aren't sold all at once/there isn't a huge dump of SCRT tokens. This would stimulate the space and users, and would incentivize people who had previously never heard of the project to look into it.
