

Beta launch of AI newsletter for summaries of Twitter spaces

TLDR : 60 day trial run of this as a Pilot project

The intent of making this post is to gauge the interest and viability of this idea and learn something new in the process

What I want to do ?

Provide free coverage to each and all community members and shows covering each and every aspect of the discussion around apecoin, its ecosystem other shows in its fold.

Running a pilot project in order to receive feedback, incorporating said feedback and then continuing to iterate upon it, all simultaneously. Deploying new changes, and testing them in the real world.

I did scale up the code for handling data @ scale, let's see if the systems I put in place

Basically, learning a lot of things and acting upon those insights. While being able to provide value to the ecosystem as a whole.

The insights gathered from this experience will shape how we'll proceed further, as we scale upwards.

Call to Action :

Sign up for a free summary of The ApeComms Twitter spaces here in form of a newsletter → Audience Signup Form

I'll start with ApeComms, and I intend on covering more spaces as we go. It all depends upon how well I'm able to establish our scaling systems (and deploying that kinda stuff over the cloud is pretty expensive in terms of manpower)

With the goal of covering most of, if not all of the spaces and discussions relevant to our ecosystem before the end of the pilot.

Overall Cost to the Ecosystem :

None, zilch, nada, nien, zero, 0 $ APE

If you're Interested in getting your show covered under this pilot run, register here : Creator Registration form

With this, you'll get you covered and at zero cost

You just need to provide a few details, like what do you cover, what's your average audience turnout (these analytics you can get from Super Spaces) and we'll get back to you if you're a fit according to our criteria.

PS :

This endeavour is not gonna be an inexpensive one, (even excluding my own time and effort) the API costs, cloud deployment and the ongoing and recurring costs are gonna add up quick.

I'll hold this up on my own for as much as I can, but the sustainment of this will depend upon the community.

Here's a new wallet address which I've made, any help will be greatly appreciated :

I'll appreciate your consideration

Any help is greatly appreciated, be that financially, morally or by spreading the word or any combination of all of these.

If this is not for you, I appreciate it regardless

Have an awesome day, Anky out
